The Manufacture of Public Opinion.

The most discouraging feature in journal ism at the present day, is the tendency of a few leading metropolitan journals to overshadow and dwindle the local press in smaller places. It is one manner in which the centralizing influence of the times-an influence justly regarded with apprehension by thinking men-displays itself. To the necessary advantages which the press of the great cities enjoys in collecting and disseminating the latest news, is now added a disposition to become the mouth-pieces of popular sentiment, not only upon great national questions but upon every topic which excites interest in any part of the land, whatever the metropolitan editor's means of information or judgment.

It is not in its mere working upon the personal interests of local editors and publishers, that we now wish to call attention to this subject, though frankly be it said that nothing so discourages the latter in their efforts to make their journals acceptable and valuable to their own communities, as this interference, and the feeling that too many of their own citizens thoughtlessly lend themselves to its purposes. A far graver evil than any personal injury is the destruction of all public spirit in smaller places, and the growing disposition to take their views of local matters from the onesided and often corrupt articles furnished by some anonymous scribbler to the for, eign press.

The evil is only increased by the general fairness and good intentions of the journal which does the mischief. When the New York Herald has a letter from the country. maligning Mr. A. or praising Mr. B., the townsmen of its favorite or victim, understand pretty well how much it is worth and can generally, give a shrewd guess as to the value received for the insertion of the article. But when papers of a higher standard of public morality suffer themselves to be used as the tools of private interests, the best intentioned men are led into the snare. They do not stop to consider that the editor in New York knows little or nothing of the subject on which his correspondent writes: that the artful perversion, the sly inquendo, the glossing statement pass him undetected, and that if harm is tione, his ready excuse will always be, that he only gave the views of his correspondent, or that he relied for his own on " good authority."

We are led to this subject, by a letter in Monday's N. F. Tribune upon the Hazard and Ives case and things in general. In the honesty and good faith of that paper we have generally had for more confidence than we attach to most journals which discuss subjects they cannot be expected fully to understand, and we regret to see this mania for dabbling in outside speculations growing upon it. We had hoped that the beautiful effect of its interference in the Hinois Senatorial election, had taught it to keep its fingers a little farther from oth_ er people's fires. Without further com ment, however, we make the following extracts from the letter of "V." above referred to, and submit it to our renders whatever their sentiments on the subjects discussed, whether it suits them that pub. lie opinion here should be moulded by such means. The italies are our own :

"There is in Newport a gentleman by the name of Hazard, who agreed with a Mr. Ives of Providence to sell him lorty-five acres of land for $15,000. This agreement was written down with a pencil and signed by said Huzard in great laste.

Hazard concluded not to fulfit his agreement, and Ires brought his "bill in equity" (which some degenerate people call "bill of iniquity") for a specific preformance. Hazard desired to put in testance. Internal desired to put in testinguity to limit his written agreement, which the Judges ruled out, ergo Hazard was beaten and specific performance decreed. Most people would have supposed that this would have been an end of the matter, but at this moment another Mr. Hazard, no relative of the defendant, but a pure yolunteer, intervened. He is clear grit, with as stiff and substantial a backbone as in tortoise, and so, by the time the Supremi a tortoise, and so, by the time the supreme Court had promulgated its own report of the case, Hazard came out with "an appeal to the people of Rhode Island," in the form of a pamphlet, containing one hundred and sixty pages, closely printed, interspersed with elegant extracts from the Bible and Shekhamar. This case when the terspersed with elegant extracts from the Bible and Shakspeare. This soas a shreed Democratic appeal. And Mr. Hazard, who is a generous, tenevolent, hospitable man, with a strong intellect and keen perception, has hosts of friends to sympathize ith him, and read and put implicit confi-nce in his book. Therein Ives's lawyers dence in his book. Therein Ive's lawyers and the Judges of the Supreme Court are treated to a ride almost equal to old Floyd "Judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth utar off; for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter." Portia is also trotted out, and that "pound of flesh" is made mince-meat

Thereafter Mr. Ives, who is a rich millienaire and not considered more generous and public spirited than the law all was a man in his circumstances to be, but who man in his circumstance to be, out one is respected us a man of great integrity, came out with his book in defense. How many, beside the Court and counsel who tried the case, and Mr. Hazard, have read the book, I cannot say; but in this vicinity the Court, at least, and no need to defend itself, and I have never seen a man that could tell what the book contained. And now the big black nimbus seems almost ready to burst, for Mr. Hazard has published mather bok of ferty-right pages, which is distributed among the members of the Legislature and others, and our politics are assuming the shape of a per-ional light between the most accomplished Chief Justice of which Rhode Island can boast, and the aforesaid Mr. Hazard.

One of the strongest candidates for Congress from the Eastern District, who is a member of the General Assembly, and who had ventured to assert the correctness of the decision of the Court, has thereby extinguished all hopes of a nomination.

And, as misfortunes never come si single, niter the American Republican had har-namiously united in calling a Convention, and had installed in office, from Governor down to the Committee-man, men who were never members of the American party, another c ique have called another Conven-ion. Shall we have played over in this stare the foolish action of those that are sound to rule or ruln? I trust not, benose the new clique cannot probably carry 100 votes. Public apinion will not counter once the enterprise. But what said clique may do when united with the Hazard action for a Douglas Democrat for Congress, is a question which we may yet have to brook."

We have neither space nor inclination to sift out the grains of truth mixed up in this mass of chaff. Our object in this article is not to discurs the questions touched upon in the letter but to protest against the general principle involved in such meddling upon either side, and to point out the evils which spring from it.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION .- It will he seen by reference to our LATEST News department that this convention convened in Providence, and nominated an entire State ticket. We were unable, prevoius to going to press, to obtain any particulars concerning the Congressional Convention which was held last evening at the same place.

Hon, Henry C. Murphy of Brooklyn, N. Y., now Minister at the Hague, and one of the most zealous students of the early Dutch history of New York in this country, sends in a private letter to a friend, the following interesting announce-

I hope to send you, during the winters a Memoir on Henry Hudson in Holland, being an exposition of the causes and mo-tives of the voyage in which he discovered Hudson river, derived from the records of the Company and from printed sources not heretofore regarded. The most interesting part of it to you will be a document none other than the written contract entered into between Hudson and the Directors of the East India Company of Amsterdam, and containing points of historical interest. and containing points of historical interest.

My Memoir is written, and I am only waiting a search in regard to one or two facts in the archives, before printing it.

I intend to follow this up by some researches in relation to Usselinx and the crganization of the West India Company.

Very truly yours,
HEN. C. MURPHY.

Mr. John M. Botts, of Virginia, the man who slent in the same bod with Capt. Tyler, and who every now and then "turns up" in our national politics with a suddenness and a prominence that would have gladdened the heart of Micawber, has made an addition to our political vocabulary worthy of being remembered. We take the following from the report of the Virginia State Convention. . . . Vociferous calls for "Botts"

then preceded from all parts of the building, and in a few moments that gentleman approached the stand, greeted by deafening appliance. "Nine cheers for Botts,, were called for, and given with a hearty good

"There would be two great parties in the contest of 1860-the "Imposition" and the contest of 1860—the "Imposition" and the "Opposition." The coalition of those opposed to the Democracy would well constitute the "Opposition Party," while the Democracy would be appropriately recognized as the "Imposition Party." Let the war cry be "Opposition" to "Imposition."

Peor old Man!-A Washington letter writer thus apostrophizes on the national Executive:

Mr. Chrece 000 to $20,000 to elect Buchanan, never crosses the threshold of the White House, white it is whispered along the avenue, that John R. Thomson, of New-Jersey, one of his most faithful adherents, has at last of his most kirling adherents, has at 18th become disgusted with the hollow-heartedness of the Executive. The Washington correspondent of The Philadelphia Tress says that no man can be pointed out who is sincerely attached to James Buchanan, in Washington or elsewhere. At his own home in Lancaster, he has scarcely a friend. Hardly a Lancaster face is ever seen at the White House, and none of the men who are known to have adhered to the fortunes of the President in those dark days, when he crouched at their feet begging for their support. What the condition of affairs is in Philadelphia I need not repeat. Even the people who hold offices under him, while they may tear; do not esteem or ad-mire him; and of those who do hold office scarcely one can be found among those who were proud to be numbered as his friends three years ago, who does not express sorrow and indignation at the course ne has pursued. In Washington, I venture to assert that the President cannot point to an honest personal friend. Messrs Bright and Slidel are supposed to be the nearest to him, and yet those who know these gentlemen shrug their shoulders at the sightest suggestions of any cordinity between them and the head or the Gov

Another New State.

The State of Oregon, the thirty-third member of the American Union, has now taken her place with her fellows. The joy with which in other days every new accession to the confederacy was received, is sadly tempered now by the unfairness which lets in without question a sparsely settled and distant state, little likely to come up to the proper standard of representation, within some decades; while another nearer home, with a greater population and one more rapidly increasing, is kept out. But Oregon promises to be a willing tool of the Administration at once, and of the Slave Power till long years have taught her the lescon that Michigan, and Iowa, and Illinois have slowly learned; and "Cotton is King."

Where is our friend of the Narra- journed. gansett Weekly? If it were whortlebe rying or clam-digging season, we should think that the Editor had suspended publieation to engage in those favorite oc upations of our brothers on the main land. We have not seen our contemporary these six weeks, and we miss him.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE FESTIVAL.-We have heard of crowds-we have heard of "jams," even but we never saw the latter fully exemplified, until we entered the Island House Monday evening, and attempted to make our way torough the company there assembled. There are various kinds of jams that we read of, such as blackberry jams, raspberry jams, and jammed fingers and toes, but the best jam of all, and that the least likely to cause pain, is to be jammed up in the midst of a score of pretty girls; we freely confess that placed in such circumstances, we should be in no danger of rupturing a blood vessel in our efforts to hreak away. So much for the jam; now for the festival.

The embodiment of the beauty, fashion and intelligence of Newport seemed to have resolved with one consent to grace this festive occasion. There were present clergymen, lawyers, doctors, merchants, men of every trade and profession, and beautiful ladies without number. These, on entering the door, laid aside whatever of starch and buckram they happened to possess, (always excepting their hoops,) and laid themselves out for a good time.-The entire lower suit of rooms had been thrown open, in one of which were spread the refreshment tables, in another was located the post-office, and in others the tables for the sale of fancy articles. Through these the crowd surged, amid the cracking of jokes and the crash of crinoline, eyes sparkling, tongues wagging, and every countenance wreathed in smiles. There was no programme, except such as each one carried in his or her own head, which was programme sufficient, as evidenced by the manner it was carried out. To begin to chronicle all that was said and done then and there, would be to write a book, and we shall not attempt it. We only regret that we are obliged to wait three hundred and sixty-five days before we can attend another of these pleasant festivals of Zion Church.

A rumor was current yesterday, that a small girl had been swept away and drowned by the freshet in Mary Street and across the head of Swinburne's Wharf. We could not ascertain her name. Albeit there is talk of turning the Mary Street stream to account in running a water mill, the great objection being on the part of abuttors. In justice to Mr. Swinhurne, we will state that he is in no way responsible for the nuisance which exists at the head of his wharf. He turns the water under ground at the point where it touches his ECLIPSE.—There will be an eclipse of the Moon on the morning of Thursday of this week. The moon enters the carth's shadow at 4 o'clock and emerges at about 7 1-2. Of course the conclusion of the eclipse will be eclipsed by the which rises a few minutes before the eclipse ends. Should the morning be clear, any person who has the courage to get up at 4 o'clock | will not only have an excellent view of the eclipse, but probably an unusually good appetite for breakfast.

The trial of the new Hose Coupling invented by Messrs, R. B. Lawton and W. H. Bliss, takes place to-day at 12 o'clock, M.,on the Parade. All should be present to witness the working of this valuable article. Members of Aquidneck Co. No. 3 have volunteered to try them with their machine-

Dr. Willard stated in a paper read before the New York Medical Society, that since last April there had been 2000 cases of the "Albany disease," or dipthenite, 176 of which proved fatal, all but three of whom were children, and most of them under 12 years of age. A lake membrane is formed in the throat, which gradually extends downward, obstructs bleathing, and sufficeates the patient.

XXXVTH CONCRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.

In the Senate on Saturday a proposition or a telegraph to the Pacific was referred. Also some propositions for the Post-Office Committee in regard to the ocean mails. Retrenchment was the next business cussed, Mr. Johnson of Tennessee bringing up his resolution that the estimates for 1860 be made on a basis not exceeding fifty millions, exclusive of interest on the Public Debt. A rambling debate ensued, but nothing was done with it, when the private calendar was taken up, and the Senate adjourned.

In the House the Oregon bill was the first business in order, and was adopted precisely as it came from the Senate years 114, pays 103, after a debate in which teen to twenty members participated. Pending a motion to admit the delegate from Oregon to a seat, the House ad-executive communication was re ceived, enclosing the report of the Commissioners on the Warwick Bank, and calling attention to the necessity of such amendment of the statute as would allow more extended powers to special Bank Commissioners. The report was referred to the Committee on Corporations, and three hundred copies were ordered to be printed.

After giving the history of the Warwick Bank from their appointment in October, 1858, to the 14th of January last, when, in spite of their watchfulness, the bank was sold to new parties, whose course was such as at once forfeited their charter, they say .

The extended time this Bank has been kept along under the care of the commissioners, all the while ready to be sold out, and at ers, all the while ready to be sold out, and at any moment to assume a more dangerous position towards the public, and the failure inthe and to seeme its creditors from loss, has not been from any fault of court, officer or corninsisioner, but from want of legal power.

The commissioner would therefore respectfully suggest that the especial commissioner at any time appointed by the Governor to visit and examine a Bank, be clothed, in addition to their present power, with further power, whenever they deem the public interest to demand such a course, to take possession of the assets of such Bank, either at a first or any subsequent visit, their doings to be confirmed or setaside by the court upon report immediately to be made, or upon application by the Bank therefor.

The approaching opening of Parliament was looked forward to with unusual interest in hopes that such explanations will be made as will modify the existing suspense. PRUSSIA.
The Princess Frederic William was safely delivered of a son on the 27th. The news of the event reached Victoria, at Windsor Castle, in six minutes after its occurrence in Berlin. Demonstrations of rejoicing took place at Windsor and Her-lin. The regent and his consort appeared on the buleony of the palace amid vocifer-ous cheering and thanked the populace for their sympanhy.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

LIGHTENS THE LABOR AND PROMOTES THE BEALTH AND HAPPINESS OF

THOSE AT HOME.

The particular attention of ladies is called to the Family Sewing Machine, manufactured by the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, which possesses the following de-eiled and unmistakable advantages:

1st. It is contained and operated in a hand some black walnut case, which can be closed and locked when not in use, thereby affording the owner the satisfaction of knowing that is is not used or tampered with in her absence, and which is an effectual safeguard against dust and dampness.

2d. It occupies less than a square foot in space, is light and portable, and can be trans-ported or carried from one room to another with the greatest facility.

3d. Cotton is used on these machines as it is purchased on speels, without re-winding, saving a great deal of time, trouble and waste

4th. The trouble and perplexity of attending to a shuttle, (as in other machines) is in this avoided. No shuttle is employed, the under thread being used from a spoul.

5th. It can be used by hand or foot, at pleasure : conveniences for the latter power clways accompanying the machine, without extra charge. 6th. It is very simple, yet strong in construction, easily learned and kept in order, can be run at great speed, and does not require to be taken apart to be oiled. 9th. The stitch is even, distinct and regular, and for general beauty, strength and clasticity excels the very best hand sewing.

Sth. This machine embroiders beautifully. 9th. The price is from $50 to $100.

Family machines also arranged in tables cabinets, &c., with drawers, and every con, venience for work and speed, at prices varying from $50 to $100. The extensive patronage and popularity enjoyed by these machines is the best evidence of their superiority. Their novel style -ornamental, yet highly useful-their almost noiseless operation, the simplicity of their construction, and beauty of their work, together with the advantages enumerated above, render this, without any qualification whatever, the best, cheapest, and most reliable sewing muchine ever brought before the Ladies, and all others interested in the aving of labor, are invited to call at A. J. Ward's, and examine for themselves. These machines are freely shown, and samples of work given at all times.
